

The Social Mirror

One of the most delightful parties of the week was the sewing party given by Mrs. O. A. Hesla on Saturday afternoon at her home on South Mount Vernon avenue. A very pleasant afternoon was spent with sewing, and delicious refreshments were served. Those who thoroughly enjoyed the afternoon were Mrs. Theodore W. Otis, Mrs. William A. Drake, Mrs. E. W. Wells, Mrs. A. C. Burmister, Mrs. R. H. Burmister, Mrs. Mary Ross, Mrs. Thomas J. Norris, Mrs. J. C. Herndon, Mrs. Morris Goldwater, Mrs. H. M. Maus, Mrs. Frank R. Stewart, Mrs. W. S. Savel, Mrs. R. N. Fredericks, Mrs. M. Cole and Mrs. H. D. Aitken.

A jolly company of young people gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Orthell, on West Gurley street, Friday evening, to meet Mr. and Mrs. Albert Creekmur. The party was a "miscellaneous shower," and many very handsome and useful household articles were received by the bride and groom. During the evening delicious refreshments were served. Among those sending pretty gifts were Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. George Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Gilmore, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Myers, Mrs. Mary Norris, Miss Opal Creekmur, Miss Roxie Creekmur, Miss Alta Creekmur, Miss Ruby Loy, Miss Helen Piper, Miss Bert, Miss Hanger, and the Messrs. Arthur Creekmur, Lester Ruffner, Moan, Gus Voge, Johnnie Orthell, Davies, J. C. McIntosh, James, Robert Connell, and the Rev. Mr. Deninger.

The first of a series of parties given by Mrs. F. O. Smith, was held Thursday afternoon at her home on Whipple Heights. The afternoon was devoted to bridge and it was a most enjoyable afternoon. The home of the hostess had been exquisitely decorated for the affair with Shasta daisies and ferns, and this same color scheme of yellow and white was carried out through the menu. Mrs. Smith was assisted during the afternoon by Mrs. John Mason Ross, Mrs. John C. Fredericks and Mrs. Rudolph Baehr. At the close of the afternoon's diversion, handsome prizes were awarded Mrs. John J. Hawkins for the high score and Mrs. James Whetstone won the consolation. Those who spent a most enjoyable afternoon were Mrs. Thomas G. Norris, Mrs. John J. Hawkins, Mrs. O. A. Hesla, Mrs. H. D. Aitken, Mrs. J. M. Watts, Mrs. William H. Doyle, Mrs. Edward A. Kastner, Mrs. J. C. Herndon, Mrs. Morris Goldwater, Mrs. Leslie B. Larimer, Mrs. John K. Miller, Mrs. C. A. Peter, Mrs. Harry Brislley, Mrs. George Norman Hoffman, Mrs. E. D. Nass, Mrs. Robert H. Burmister, Mrs. James Whetstone, Mrs. Charles H. McLane, Mrs. Warren D. Baker, Mrs. O. H. Tucker, Mrs. E. S. Clark, Mrs. John H. Robinson, Mrs. Ralph J. Roper, and Miss Theresa Fredericks.

One of the most delightful affairs of the week was the thimble party given by Mrs. M. B. Hazeltine and Mrs. Clarence E. Yount, at the home of Mrs. Hazeltine, on South Mount Vernon avenue. During the afternoon the guests all enjoyed a guessing game, which was to guess the advertisement of familiar pictures in advertising. Mrs. Southworth was given a very handsome brass jardiniere for having the greatest number of correct answers. Those who thoroughly enjoyed this pleasant afternoon were Mrs. William A. Drake, Mrs. Harry T. Southworth, Mrs. Wm. L. Fox, Mrs. A. D. Fox, Mrs. Gratia Morrison, Mrs. Will Loss, Mrs. Henry W. Lath, Mrs. Mary Ross, Mrs. A. M. Cole, Mrs. J. L. Gardner, Mrs. Rood, Mrs. W. V. Watson, Mrs. Wilhelmina Raible, Mrs. A. C. Burmister, Mrs. Frank R. Stewart, Mrs. William Nelson, Mrs. B. N. Fredericks, Mrs. E. W. Wells, Mrs. T. W. Otis, Mrs. W. A. Kent, Mrs. E. D. Nash, Dr. Agnes McKee Wallace and Miss Schuff.

Major Henry Kirby entertained on Tuesday evening at a very handsome dinner party at his quarters at Whipple Barracks, in honor of Brigadier General Earl D. Thomas. Those seated around the very effectively decorated table were Major Kirby, General Thomas, Captain Frederic D. Evans, Captain Edwin T. Cole, Captain John K. Miller, Captain Guy G. Palmer, James A. Hope, E. N. Fredericks, Frederic G. Brecht, Lieutenant John C. Waterman, Lieutenant Walter E. Gunter and Lieutenant G. Gordon Bartlett.

The dance at the Yavapai Club, on Tuesday evening, in honor of Brigadier General Earl D. Thomas, while being pleasantly informal, was significant to the extent of having a receiving party and being designed as a further courtesy to the officers of the Eighteenth Infantry and their wives. Those who stood in the receiving line were General Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Joan Mason Ross, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Edwards, and Major Kirby. Among those who thoroughly enjoyed the evening were General Earl D. Thomas, Major Kirby, Judge and Mrs. E. W. Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Burmister, Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Heap, Mr. and Mrs. Paul P. Hastings, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie B. Larimer, Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Cheverton, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Kastner, Mr. and Mrs. George Norman Hoffman, Dr. and Mrs. Ralph J. Roper, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Norton, Captain and Mrs. Frederic D. Evans, Captain and Mrs. Edwin T. Cole, Captain and Mrs. Guy G. Palmer, Captain and Mrs. John K. Miller, Lieutenant and Mrs. Vernon W. Boller, Lieutenant and Mrs. G. Gordon Bartlett, Mr. and Mrs. Warren D. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Nash, Mr. and Mrs. Will Loss, Mrs. J. C. Herndon, Mrs. Henry G. Hallock, Mrs. George D. Ryan, Miss Irene Wells, Miss Agnes Todd, Miss Ann McKenzie, Miss Ethel Wood, Miss Elsie Bean, Miss Florence Herndon, Miss Ulmo, Miss Edith Armitage, Miss Ethel Hale, Miss Meta Dexter, Miss Minnie Davis, Miss Florence Jones, Miss Helen Edwards, Miss Louise Gibbs, Miss Nell Clemens, Miss Clara Hoff, and the Messrs. Captain Clarence L. Cole, H. H. Linney, Rowan P. Lemly, David W. Russell, Frederick Ducker, Meryl P. Schillerstrom, Ulmo, Fred C. Moore, Barhar, R. N. Rodgers, C. A. Truex, H. Norton, Johnson, David Ling, Frederick Hart, Edward Lejeune, James R. Lockett, C. A. Peter and H. Blauvelt.

The Five Hundred party given by Mrs. F. O. Smith at her home on Washington avenue, on Thursday afternoon, was one of the most enjoyable affairs of the week, and charming in all its appointments. The rooms were beautifully decorated with Shasta daisies and ferns. During the afternoon Mrs. Smith was assisted by Mrs. James Whetstone. After the serving of a dainty menu the prizes for the afternoon were awarded Mrs. Edward A. Kastner for the high score and Miss Theresa Fredericks for the greatest number of slams. Those who enjoyed the afternoon's diversion were Mrs. Edward A. Kastner, Mrs. G. Y. Andrews, Mrs. Sara Oberbeck, Mrs. Frederic G. Brecht, Mrs. Charles Raible, Mrs. E. H. Meek, Mrs. Chas. H. McLane, Mrs. Frank W. Foster, Mrs. John Mason Ross, Mrs. M. B. Hazeltine, Mrs. Clarence E. Yount, Mrs. D. Levy, Mrs. Rudolph Baehr, Mrs. Harry Colvig, Mrs. W. A. Cline, Mrs. Fred Kessler, Mrs. W. W. Ross, Mrs. J. W. Milnes, Mrs. D. C. Kurtz, Mrs. David H. Biles, Mrs. W. A. Kent, Mrs. Harry W. Heap, Mrs. Z. O. Brown, Mrs. Will Loss, Mrs. Ed. Wright, Mrs. C. C. Keeler and Mrs. George A. Beach.

Miss Winnifred Fredericks entertained informally on Saturday evening at a very delightful affair at her home on South Pleasant street, when she was assisted by her sister, Miss Theresa Fredericks. Those who thoroughly enjoyed this jolly evening were Miss Ethel Wood, Miss Elsie Bean, Miss Ethel Hale, Miss Ann McKenzie, Mrs. George D. Ryan, Miss Florence Herndon, Miss Emma Dutcher, and the Messrs. Rowan P. Lemly, H. Norton Johnson, Edward Lejeune, Meryl P. Schillerstrom, H. H. Linney, David W. Russell, Frederick Ducker, Leslie C. Derrick, Jack Nelson and Orleans Longacre, Jr.

On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Warren D. Baker was a hostess at a very delightful afternoon of Five Hundred at her home on South Mount Vernon avenue. After the serving of delicious refreshments the high score prize of the afternoon was awarded Mrs. Ed. H. Meek and the prize for the greatest number of slams was won by Mrs. Ed. Block.

A delightful affair of the week was the farewell party given on Friday night by Miss Nydia Acker at her home on North Mount Vernon street, complimentary to Miss Leonora Oppergelt, who leaves tomorrow for California, with her mother, Mrs. J. H. Collins. The rooms were appropriately decorated in the national colors of Germany and America, and cards, palmistry and fortune telling were the fascinating diversions of the evening. Francis Derrick won high score for the gentlemen and received a handsome stein, while the ladies' prize, a dainty box of stationery, was won by Miss Sadie Munds.

The guests of the evening were Leonora Oppergelt, Irene Hesla, Mildred Sprague, Wilhelmina King, Eva Behn, Edith Wren, Sadie Munds, Francis Derrick, Glac Paul, Bruce Piper, Kenneth Beatson, Ewing Tribby, William Lloyd, Perry Ling and W. V. Welch.

Miss Pauline Shaw was the recipient of a happy surprise party on Saturday, given by her young friends, in honor of her birthday. No pains were spared by the committee of girls in charge to make the affair a lovely one, from every standpoint. Cleverly arranged games were prepared for which prizes were awarded, Esther Ross and Laura Belle Andrews being the luckiest. Charades were enjoyed and refreshments served at a beautifully decorated table. A hanging basket of carnations and ferns was suspended over the table, from which streamers of pink ribbons were attached to hand painted place cards, representing gilded Maybaskets filled with flowers. Their daintiness reflected great credit on the youthful designers. A beautiful birthday cake was the center of attraction, with its lighted candles, at which the young hostess tempted her fortune. To Margaret Levy, Delma Goldsberg and Muriel Tucker the pleasing success of the afternoon is due. The guests present were Laura Belle Andrews, Esther Ross, Mary Coleman, Muriel Tucker, Marjorie Milnes, Margaret Levy, Frances Elliott, Delma Goldsberg, Lonelva Stewart, Helen Reibling and Hazel Tarney.

A group of merry little lads gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Jenkins yesterday afternoon, the occasion being the sixth birthday of little Vivian. Merry games were played, after which all sat down to delicious refreshments. The little folks enjoyed themselves to the utmost, and were Mary and Joe Hobbs, Helen, Ernest and Shirley Born, Johnnie McArdle, Vernon Cox, Herman and Willie Vierthaler, Jack Forcett. Mrs. Jenkins was assisted by Mesdames Cox, Vierthaler and Miss Minnie Piper.

PRESCOTT GIRL WINNING FAME

(From Sunday's Daily)

The many Prescott friends and acquaintances of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Andrews will read the following notice of the accomplishments of their daughter with a great amount of pleasure and interest. Miss Andrews has acquired the art of dancing as to attract considerable prominence in society circles of San Francisco, and appeared at week ago at a fashionable event in the Fairmont Hotel of San Francisco. She is but 12 years of age, and will be pleasantly remembered as a beautiful and vivacious girl. The notice below is taken from the Alameda Argus:

"Local society was well represented at the dancing exhibition, Saturday afternoon, when Mrs. Olita Lunt Youngberg presented her classes at the Fairmont, across the bay. The participants were especially good and the pretty dances and drills by the classes were most effective. The Chinese pantomime was one of the features of the day and was cleverly put on by the young people. Miss Grace Andrews' relaxation dance characteristic was another attractive character, and was most gracefully danced."

AFTER WATERS-PIERCE.
ENID, Okla., May 21.—The suit brought by the state of Oklahoma to dissolve the Waters-Pierce Oil company, under the Oklahoma anti-trust law, is set down for trial in the District Court at Enid for Monday. The state expects to show that the company is a subsidiary of the Standard Oil company, and that its operation is in restraint of trade.

QUESTION OVER TIME.
SPOKANE, Wash., May 21.—Deciding a question arising from an attempt by the county sheriff to levy on a timepiece owned by J. C. Eddy, to satisfy a judgment in favor of Leroy C. Waller, formerly chief of police of Spokane, Judge E. H. Sullivan, in the Spokane County Superior Court, ruled that a watch is an article of wearing apparel and is exempt.

SALAZAR IS CAPTURED AFTER A LONG CHASE

Man Much-Wanted in Yavapai County Is Arrested by The El Paso Officers

(From Sunday's Daily)

The capture of a man whom the officers believe to be one of the most daring thieves that ever infested this section of Arizona, was learned yesterday from a telegram from Sheriff Smith to Under Sheriff Raible in this city, stating that he would leave Phoenix that evening for El Paso, Tex., to bring Juan Salazar back to the Territory.

Sheriff Smith stated in the telegram that he had requisition papers from Governor Sloan on the governor of Texas, and unless habeas corpus proceedings are instituted, the alleged burglar would be brought to Jerome in a few days for preliminary trial.

Salazar is alleged to have broken into the locker rooms of the United Verde Copper company and to have stolen property of unknown value. While the thief was going through that department, he was detected, and when about to be arrested, he whipped out a gun, compelling the watchman to desist. It is alleged the thief was Salazar, who then retreated

SILVER PROBLEM IN RELATION TO CHINA

Much has been said about the effect of cheap silver upon this country's foreign trade, and the subject hots up frequently. Financial America, formerly the Wall Street Summary, leans very decidedly to the views expressed by such economists as Sir Moreton Frewen, and ascribes to the disparity of exchange between the gold-using countries and the Orient the evidences of industrial growth frequently reported from China. It quotes Melville E. Stone of the Associated Press, who has lately returned from China, as follows:

"With the cheapness of Asiatic labor and high freight rates, I cannot see any hopeful outlook for American exports to Asia. . . . In the immediate future we may be able to furnish a certain amount of railway material, but I can't help believing that whatever money America intends to make out of her exports to China she must make soon. Even now the Chinese are making steel rails and building their railways with them."

Likewise this New York publication refers to a report that a contract has recently been closed for $25,000,000 worth of Chinese iron and steel products to be imported for use in our industries on the Pacific coast. A steel rolling mill at Hankow is said to be turning out rails of high quality, while the men employed, possessing at least 90 per cent of the efficiency of the white worker, are earning only one-fifth of the wages paid in this country. "Instead of an improving market for our exports of manufactured goods," says Sir Moreton Frewen, "cheap silver is making Asia one vast factory."

The cheapness of Chinese labor is accentuated apparently by the low price of the metal in which these wages are paid, although it may be supposed that the depreciation in the money metal of China will have the same effect upon the cost of living in that country as the great production and depreciation of gold has in this. Probably the effect will be more slowly felt, and in the meantime Chinese manufacturers have a great immediate advantage, which is causing some leading thinkers of England and America to perceive the great disadvantage which these nations must inherit therefrom. It is stated that the whole aspect of English commerce in the Orient has been altered since the decline in the price of silver began some years ago. Says Financial America:

"As a development of this situation, China is enabled to sell her products abroad at gold prices and thus command more silver, which passes current at home at practically the same rate as formerly. For illustration, if China receives $1,000 in gold for $1,000 worth of tea, with this sum she may purchase $2,000 worth of silver, which, of course, reduces her labor cost 100 per cent. This, obviously, is an enormous gain for the men who manage China's business affairs, and they are quick to take advantage of it. They are now developing their iron and coal mines, raising wheat and manufacturing cotton, which will diminish the necessity of foreign purchasing. Indeed, exports of some of her products have been made already, and it is this phase of the situation that gives us most concern."

LEADING SUBJECTS.
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 21.—The proceedings in Congress, the progress of developments in England under the new sovereign, and events connected with the visit of Theodore Roosevelt in London will continue during the coming week as leading subjects of news and comment.

EQUALITY LEAGUE.
SPOKANE, Wash., May 21.—Washington Political Equality League, of which Mrs. May Arkwright Hutton of Spokane is president, has plans under way for a tour of the state of Washington in automobiles in the interest of the suffrage movement.

PARDON IS NOW SOLE HOPE FOR FRANK SPENCE

Supreme Court Denies Murderer's Appeal For Re-trial

Only Executive Clemency Can Save Him From Gallows

(From Sunday's Daily.)

All legal avenues of hope are closed to Frank Spence, and through an opinion handed down by the Supreme Court of Arizona yesterday afternoon, his fate is settled, and he must die for the crime of murdering E. R. Sullivan, near this city. This body has refused a rehearing of his case, and after months of judicial consideration, the case ends against him.

The only hope for the doomed man is executive clemency. It is probable that on the reconvening of the District Court in this city, next week, Spence will again be sentenced to hang, and after the pronouncing of the sentence, will be taken to Florence, where he will expiate his crime on the gallows. The death watch placed over the man after the Bryant suicide, will be retained, and until he is taken to the place of execution. A petition, praying for his reprieve, is to be circulated in the city, is the report made last night. The petition will be sent to Governor Sloan.

GENEROUS OFFER BY TURQUOISE MINE OWNER

(From Sunday's Daily)

Mohave county has one enthusiastic Haysamper in the movement to build the Pioneer Home, and yesterday, through Tim R. E. Morrison, he practically proved this to be so. "Jim" Haas is his name, and this generous Arizonian offers to donate as much turquoise from his mines in that county as may be desired.

A box of the samples is in evidence at the office of Mr. Morrison, some in the rough and natural state, as taken from the mines, while one slab has the polished finish that shows the beauty. This ore, when worked over, will be not only appropriate for the interior of the institution, but an ornamental feature for the fireplace or mantel, or any other decorative purpose, and will add materially to the attractiveness of the interior and likewise typify the surroundings as an Arizona production.

The turquoise mines of Mr. Haas are famed throughout the nation for their beautiful output, and many charms for the watch chain and other personal uses are worn everywhere. In fact the "turquoise" is still being eagerly sought and shipments from his mines continue steadily. Mr. Haas says he will give a ton if it is desired, and the cost to the Territory will be nothing. Several tints of this ore are to be seen in the collection received, and Mr. Morrison aptly terms the move as "Mohave's Patriotic Voice."

WILL BE TRIED FOR MURDER.

BOSTON, Mass., May 21.—Considerable public interest has been aroused in the case of Mrs. Elizabeth Richmond who is to be placed on trial in East Cambridge Monday charged with the murder of Steward M. Tavish. Mrs. Richmond was the proprietor of a small hotel in East Cambridge, where M. Tavish was found dead last August. The alleged murder is surrounded by many mysterious and sensational features. M. Tavish was a resident of Charlestown, L. I., and it is supposed that he intended to sail for home on the night he was killed. When the man's mutilated body was discovered in the Richmond house Mrs. Richmond was found lying in a stupor on the floor of the kitchen, across the corridor from the chamber in which M. Tavish's body was found. A revolver and a short-handled ax, covered with blood, were found in the room. The theory of the police is that M. Tavish and Mrs. Richmond had been drinking freely and that in a quarrel the man was beaten to death with the ax.
